

IIAG Privacy Policy

Introduction / Overview

The Insurance Internal Audit Group (IIAG) deeply respects the privacy of our contacts. We collect information about individuals solely for administrative purposes and the IIAG is the sole owner and user of this information.

We use the personal information provided when you register as a website user: name, address and email to alert you to events that we are running and to communicate more generally matters of importance to you as associates of the IIAG.

Our relationship with you is important to us. If you have provided us with your contact information and do not wish to receive emails in the future, simply advise us of this. We will never sell or share your name, email address, or other personally identifiable information with any unrelated third party.

Policy Statement

Except as set out herein and where required or permitted by law or a court of competent jurisdiction, we will not reveal any personal data about you to any third party.

English law and jurisdiction applies with respect to the content of this site and the information submitted. In particular we recognise and address our obligations under the provisions of the Data Protection Act (1998).

You consent to us processing your information for the purposes of providing you with our services and maintaining our records.

To the extent permitted by law, we do not accept liability for any damages (including, without limitation, damages for any consequential loss or loss of business opportunities, or loss of profits) howsoever arising and whether in contract, tort or otherwise from the use of or inability to use the site or its contents, or from any action or omission taken as a result of using the site or its contents.

We are unable to offer any guarantee that the contents of the site are free from viruses or similar which have destructive or contaminating properties and shall therefore have no liability in respect thereof. We regularly check the site for viruses using the leading proprietary virus checking software.

Certain links contained within this website may lead to external servers and sites which are maintained by third parties unconnected to us. We can accept no responsibility or liability in respect of any material contained within those sites or servers.

Access to personal information

You can update your personal information by visiting the 'My Account' section of the IIAG website.

You also have the right to access a copy of any personal information we hold about you. To do this, simply email us at administrator@iiag.org.uk.

IIAG Privacy Policy

You can send us your comments or register a complaint by contacting us at administrator@iiag.org.uk

If you would like your details to be deleted from our records or have any questions then please email our administrator at administrator@iiag.org.uk

This Policy was last updated in May 2018.

May 2018